Last Four job oriented B.Sc. courses are being introduced to attain following main objectives-

B.Sc. (Internet of things), is a new and innovative course, which sets the trend for environments and devices to become more connected and have more information associated with them. During this course, students will learn how buildings, environments, vehicles, clothing, portable devices and other objects will have the ability to sense, analyse, communicate, network and produce new information.

B.Sc. (Cloud Computing), aims to develop students both technically and personally and produce broad based graduates of high academic and practical standards to match the need of both Indian and global IT industry. Here students will learn the techniques in the delivery of computing services- servers, storage, databases, networking, software, analytics and more-over the internet (“the cloud”). Students shall have the opportunity to master in the basics of three broad categories of cloud services- Iaas (Infrastructure as a service), Paas (Platform as a services) and Saas (Software as a service) along with having hands on training (OJT) on their different modules.

B.Sc. (Cyber Security), shall enable the students to learn those techniques by which they could learn the processes and practices to product networks, computers, programs and data from attack, damage or unauthorized access as in today’s world of online services, there is imminent danger of theft of financial and personal information and hacking of websites. Students will also learn- how to identify security issues and protect information as well as track down those who steal the data. Computer forensics, ethical hacking, social engineering etc. may also be the parts of this programme.

B.Sc. (Biofuels)- This course has been designed to meet the global energy demand which is steadily increasing with the economic growth combined with the population explosion. The fossil fuels are depleting at faster rate with the economic development. Thus, the continued use of fossil-based fuels is not sustainable owing to its limited availability and emission of the green house gases and other air contaminants upon combustion. Therefore, development of an alternate renewable and clean energy source has gained serious attention worldwide.

Duration of the Course

The course duration for B.Voc. will be 3 years, i.e. 6 semesters with a flexibility of exit after completion of 2nd and 4th semesters. Diploma/Advance Diploma will be awarded to the learner after completion of 2nd and 4th semesters respectively, as per following progression chart-
